Discussion:

Dr. Shefali P. Sonavane expressed concern regarding the low enrollment in the Honors degree program for Cloud Architect, attributed to the high course fees for AWS and Microsoft Azure certification courses. The following recommendations were suggested to increase enrollment in the program:

- Suggest equivalent NPTEL courses as alternatives to paid certification courses, ensuring that students still receive high-quality content without the financial burden of commercial certifications.
- Propose the allocation of a certified faculty member to conduct flipped classrooms, enabling students to learn the core content independently and clarification of doubts.
- Recommend conducting proctored exams, following the same pattern as AWS and Microsoft Azure certifications, to ensure that students' learning and skills are validated in a structured manner.

Resolution:

The suggestions presented by Dr. Shefali P Sonavane were acknowledged by the members. It was decided that the proposed recommendations will be forwarded to the higher authorities of the institute for further consideration and decision.
